

The nuts and bolts of conscious sex & relating

A 2 day workshop with Shantam Nityama, the Tantric Mongoose ~ via webcam

28-29 November
MELBOURNE

Access your divinity through sacred sex

Your conditioned ideas of relating will have you going down the same dead end path. This is an opportunity to hear, practice and experience ways of relating you have never seen or heard before; applying these technologies could transform your relating forever. Combining presence with simple sexual techniques will empower you and your lover, leaving you both feeling energised, fulfilled and free.

In this practical, experiential workshop, men and women will learn:

- How to use sexual energy to heal, clear and electro-magnetize the physical and energetic body
- About the role polarity plays in the relationship dynamics
- Ways to make clear communication the foundation of conscious relating
- Why surrender and receptivity is so important for women in relating
- What happens when men fail to bring initiative and clarity to relating with women
- How to use conscious relating as a path to self-mastery

Come and enjoy lots of fun, laughter and learning with others as you journey through this profound experience. Nityama will be connecting in via webcam and projected onto a big screen. There will be an opportunity for you to ask questions about your personal process to support your growth towards conscious relating.
